

Dare I Say

Dare I say
you been guessin'
a few things wrong
Dare I say
you been playin' your hand too strong

Dare I say
You get bolder
when the coast is clear
Dare I say
You got some nerve to hang out here

I know
There's a target on my back
And you're ready to attack
But there's something that you lack You're gonna miss me

I know
You got nothing up your sleeve
So go back to where you came
It don't matter where you aim
You're gonna miss me

Dare I say
all your tunes
have a hollow ring
Dare I say
you can't sell 'em
if the bird don't sing

Dare I ask
Whatcha doin' on a horse that high?
Kicking dust
Sniffin' out another Best buy

I know
There's a target on my back
And you're ready to attack
But there's something that you lack You're gonna miss me

I know
You got nothing up your sleeve
So go back to where you came
It don't matter where you aim
You're gonna miss me.

My my
What an inconvenient lie
You used to be so right
Hey hey
You'd best be on your way You're standing in my light

Dare I ask
what exactly it is you do?
I'm familiar with the hell you want to put me through

I know

I know
You're gonna miss me

Dare I say
you been guessin'
Dare I say
too strong

Do you think I don't see through your lame disguise?
Every time your lips move
I know they're telling lies
